

Show what you can do!

15

Listening: Having lunch in the school cafeteria

a) Listen to Kenny.

b) Read the sentences and tick ✓ the correct sentences.

1. Kenny is a boy and he is ¹¹12 years old.
2. He is from England and goes to school in Liverpool.
3. School starts at nine o'clock in the morning and ends at half past five.
4. At ^{one}two o'clock he has lunch in the school cafeteria.
5. He ^{sometimes}always goes there with his friends, but he doesn't like the food in the school cafeteria.
6. The dish of the day only costs £5.
7. Kenny ^{doesn't}usually buys muffins and cakes. He doesn't like them.

c) Correct the false sentences and write them in your exercise book.

☺ ☹ ☹ I can understand short texts about food.
Ich kann kurze Texte über Essen verstehen.

16 Language in use: It's lunch time!

~~lunch~~ • ~~dish~~ • ~~hungry~~ • ~~thank~~ •
~~glass~~ • ~~please~~ • ~~orange juice~~

Trish and Paul have lunch in their school cafeteria. Complete the dialogue with these words:

Trish: Paul, let's go for lunch. It is half past twelve and I am really hungry 1.

Paul: Good idea! I am hungry, too.

(At the school cafeteria)

Dinner lady: Hi, what would you like for lunch 2, young man?

Paul: Well, I'd like the dish of the day and a glass 3 of orange juice.

Dinner lady: Alright. The dish 4 of the day is pumpkin soup, fried noodles and a banana. Here you are. ... Oh, I forgot your glass of orange juice 5. Here it is.

Paul: Thanks a lot.

Dinner lady: What about you, young lady? What would you like?

Trish: Hmmm ... that's difficult. I don't like noodles, and I hate pumpkin soup. I'd like a peanut butter sandwich and a pear, please 6.

Dinner lady: Is that all?

Trish: Yes, that's all - thank 7 you.

☺ ☹ ☹ I can produce short texts about food.
Ich kann kurze Texte über Essen verfassen.