

Compare your best friend to yourself.	Compare two animals that live on land.	Compare two types of sports.	Compare summer and winter.
Compare two types of fruits.	Compare two countries.	Compare two types of food.	Compare two movies or TV shows.
Compare your mom to your dad.	Compare two books.	Compare two teachers.	Compare two cities.
Compare two famous people.	Compare day and night.	Compare two school subjects.	Compare two video games.
Compare Christmas to Easter.	Compare two animals that live in the water.	Compare two singers or bands.	Compare boys and girls.

Draw three cards from the jar. Compare the two things. Write at least 3 sentences about each one into your spiral notebook.

Example: Compare two books:

Harry Potter has more pages than The Beautiful Oops

Harry Potter is not as colorful as The Beautiful Oops.

The Beautiful Oops is a book for younger children and Harry Potter is a book for older children.

The Beautiful Oops has a cooler layout, but Harry Potter is more riveting (spannend).