Activity Sheet 4

1. LET'S LEARN MORE!

The Sherpa are a group of people who live high in the Himalaya mountains. They are well known for being expert mountaineers and guides. They are able to carry heavy loads up high mountains without getting tired easily. The most famous Sherpa is Tenzing Norgay, who climbed the highest mountain in the world, Mt. Everest, with Sir Edmund Hillary in 1953. Recently, two Sherpas competed to see who could climb Mt. Everest faster – one climbed to the top in only eight hours and ten minutes!
