

Vocab:

He is tearing out pages. (rausreißen)

Go out and ~~collect~~ them real-harded!

(geh raus und pack sie beim Kragen.)

It looks horrendous! (entsetzlich)

He stared around. (starrte)

She is very kind to me. (freundlich)

Take that grin off your face. (das Grinsen)

You looked flustered this morning. (nervös)

She wore flat-looked brown brogue.

(sie trug flache braune Schuhe)

Don't argue with me! (nicht argumentieren)

It's my opinion that she is very smart.

The children sat there hypnotised!

This looks really ridiculous (lächerlich)

It looked horribly uncomfortable.

He is a en spirit. (Schuldiger)

This dog is really petty. (bissig)

There is no doubt, this is true. (keine Zweifel)

This soup is really splendid (herrorragend)

This here is a high pillar. (Säule)

For me it's a big responsibility!

(Verantwortung)

Immediately the crab came out.

She panned to cram more crabs into her mouth (stopfen).

The glass tipped over.

You're insulting the cook. (bedingern)

Eventually she can come to me.

Your hands are filthy. (schmutzig)

Go and stop whimpering. (wimmeln)

This is my red-brick cottage. (Häuschen)

Can you give me a plot of cake?

(stück) I heard an exclaim. (Ausruf)

This is really worse. (schlecht)

The police caught a robber. (aufpassen)

This rock is very filthy (dreckig)

This guy is a liar (Lügner)

I am not daft. (blödsinnig)