Diary of The Grand High Witch

Dear Diary,

I made these little sticky children... Today I was in England by the meeting of the witches. The witches in England all wear heavy wicker. In Norway there only 5-7 children!! I make the witches of England. Two of these stupid witches said something while I was talking!!! I was really angry and raised my hand and made them nervous. The boy with the double nose felt and when I said he is a mouse! Every time when I ride one of those fatty children, I feel so super good. It is like eating a chocolate for me. The boy with nose looking good not so stupid; but one of the witches smelled him at the end of the meeting. He looked so shocked when we got him. When I saw him I got his feeling like eating a chocolate. When he was running away all those stupid witches were running after him, but he is a mouse and can't do anything for us witches. We are his best friend in a garbage in his house. I hate children! The Grand High Witch
