

Graz, November 2012

To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the pleasure of teaching Ms Daniela Reiter in two of my ESL methodology courses at Graz University and am genuinely impressed by the excellent quality of her work and the high motivation and interest she has shown concerning all the topics that we have discussed.

In the course “Error Analysis and Assessment” Ms Reiter has shown her excellent command of the English language and her very good understanding of learners’ needs. Ms Reiter has shown a keen interest in all the ideas related to “assessment for learning”. This course is not only challenging on the linguistic level but requires a high degree of responsibility because the university students are linked with high-school students on a Moodle platform and give feedback to these younger learners. Ms Reiter’s feedback and corrections of learner texts have all been very helpful and encouraging.

This semester Ms Reiter is taking my course “Communicative Grammar”. All her assignments so far have been of excellent quality and show her openness to new ideas and methods of teaching. Ms Reiter explores new ideas in depths and can use her very good theoretical knowledge of the principles of learning in order to analyze teaching materials critically and improve them accordingly.

Daniela Reiter is very well organized, highly responsible and extremely competent. In addition she has a very pleasant, outgoing personality. In my courses she has always seemed genuinely interested and curious to learn. In summary, I highly recommend Ms Reiter for any language or methodology program. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Dr. Elisabeth Pölzleitner
