

Underline the mistakes in the following learner text and suggest an acceptable version – if possible, above the line.

Full correction: For less advanced learners you might leave some of the expressions untouched.

Pure Beauty

Year 6

Task: Describe an amazingly beautiful person that you happened to meet.

... and there she was. ~~view peaked up~~ My I glanced up from my phone when ~~a~~ the little bell rang ~~because~~ as the door ~~was~~ opened. The sun lit up her light, colorful dress which ~~moves~~ moved ~~preeciously~~ gently in the breeze. Her perfume ~~swiftd~~ wafted through the room and softly ~~touchd~~ tickled / caressed my nose when she ~~tossed~~ flung her ~~goldish~~ golden / or gold-brown, brown hair out of her face to see where she was going. Her beautiful ~~brownish~~ tan, ~~shaved~~ smooth legs ended ~~with in~~ “balerinas.” She kind of danced through the door swirling her dress and tossing her hair I couldn't keep my eyes off her. ~~Her~~ shiny flahing green ~~eyes were flashing green~~ and her warming smile ~~couldn't keep my eyes off of her.~~

She stopped twirling and stood in front of some posters ~~and stood facing~~ ~~faeed~~ towards me. Her ~~female~~ slender fingers turned the spindle ~~+~~ spindle of the poster display stand, where all the posters were on but unfortunately she never glanced over ~~toat~~ me. ~~The~~ Her eyes scrolled up and down in a thoughtful way, as if she weren't sure which poster to take. As she carefully picked one, she risked one peak ~~over to where I was standing in my direction.~~ . My eyes ~~withgot hooked up~~ met hers and then faded off into a different world. It seemed as ~~it were hours~~ though it had been hours even though it ~~was just for~~ had actually been two seconds. Frozen ~~of~~ by her pretty beauty I ~~didn't~~ couldn't move from where I was ~~till~~ until she had ~~she left~~ the shop.

And all that ~~stayed~~ remained ~~was these were those~~ two seconds during which my eyes ~~had~~ reached met hers. Sadly, I've sadly never seen her since that day.