So yeah, right now we're hearing Kevin's essay, and it's kind of strange, weird but good, actu- ally quite good. So right now Im just gonna work on my Project, which is Poverty in Africa, and after I did a little of that Ima read, in my free Reading book. Which is SWEET, book number 11. Hihi ♡. So right now we got an brainbreak, where we got some small punts, I mean cards. It was like a puzzle.

WORK EXPERIENCE WEEK 17

So this week, we're not going in school. No we're going each one to our own place, where we have found a company or a shop. So I had it really hard to find job, I tried on the "Stroget", but without luck. So yeah, but I have always an back-up in my family. So I got job, for my Uncle. He has he's own cleaning company, so yeah. It was quite fun. And I was different places like University, and stuff. But some times I also - or we sat in an office, and I just you know did my homework. So yeah. But the last day, I came there, and to my surprise, my Uncle said that I could go early'er, and I couldn't say no to it. So yeah, so I was home early.

Later, me and my mom went out. Only the two of us. Mom daughter quality time. We went to a cafe, in Axeltorv, near Tivoli Copenhagen. Named Vivaldi. It was really nice, and I have been missed it. So we sat there, and had a delicious brunch. So yeah, and after that my brother came, and and took us out shopping.
