

Copyright Assignment for English Teaching professional

It is our policy to ask all contributors to assign to Pavilion Publishing and Media Limited the copyright in their contribution to English Teaching professional. By signing this letter, you assign to us, in consideration of our agreeing to publish your contribution, the entire copyright and all other rights of whatsoever nature in and to the contribution throughout the world including for the avoidance of doubt all electronic form rights for the full term of the copyright and all renewals and extensions thereof. You may publish your contribution, having sought our permission, in any print on paper publication written or edited by you, provided that its original publication in English Teaching professional is acknowledged. This is not applicable if you wish to publish your contribution in any online content written or edited by you, therefore written permission must be sought before publication and the correct copyright information is used, which would be supplied by Pavilion ELT at Pavilion Publishing and Media. If a third party seeks permission from us to reproduce your contribution in another publication any fee received for the reproduction of your contribution will be shared 50/50 between you and Pavilion Publishing and Media Limited.

It is also our policy to ask for certain warranties from authors, to protect our position and accordingly you hereby warrant as follows:-

- i) that you are the sole author of the contribution, or, if not, that you have the authority of the other authors (whose names are listed below) to assign the copyright to us and to give the following warranties;
- ii) that you (and where appropriate, the other authors) are entitled to assign the copyright to us and that no one else would be entitled to prevent us from publishing the contribution;
- iii) that all the facts in the contribution are true and accurate;
- iv) that the content of the contribution is entirely original to you (and where appropriate, the other authors) or, if not, the permission of the owner of the copyright in any material copied from elsewhere has been obtained for translation distribution and sale throughout the world in all languages, forms and media;
- v) that nothing in the contribution is obscene, defamatory, libellous or a malicious falsehood;
- vi) that nothing in the contribution infringes any duty of confidentiality or duty to respect privacy which you and/or the authors may owe to anyone else.

Please complete the form below, sign and date it and return the entire copy to us along with your invoice prior to publication.
