

GEORGE'S MARVELOUS MEDICINE

Author: Ronald Dahl

Summary: The story is about a boy called George and his grandma. She is the most horrid, grouchy, grizzly old woman. When it's time for her medicine, George gets a marvelous idea! He should mix her a much better medicine to get away her grumpiness. He mixes everything together he can find. He gives it to her and at that moment, smog started coming out of her head. And she started growing taller and taller until she was out the roof! When George's parents came home and saw it they were amazed, at least his father was. He wanted to give this marvelous medicine now to all his animals so they grew bigger. They did, when they were finished, they wanted to make a new one to sell it to all the farmers and make a lot of money. They tried it 4 times but in none was the right recipe! Once they read a mixture, that made things smaller. Grandma thought it was coffee and drank it. She grew smaller and smaller until she was gone. Now the family had big animals and luckily no witchy grandma!
