

Tom jumped also in the river and looked for the coin.

Tom was lucky. He found the coin and went out of the river.

Tom was happy. From that moment on Tom took good care of the coin and was never afraid of dogs.

THE
END

Tom's lucky coin
Tom was happy. He wasn't afraid of dogs any more.

By Paul Müller

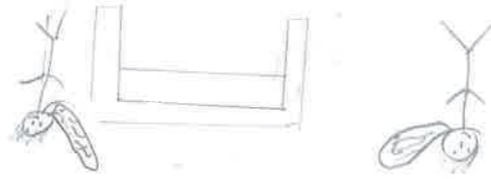

Tom asked: "Where did you find the coin Robert?" Robert said: "On your place." At this moment Robert knew the coin in his pocket was for the school building.

Suddenly Tom saw the coin it was in Robert's hand. Robert uses the strongest hand in the class. He finds a little afraid of Robert.

Then he went outside and ran away as fast as he could, but the dog ran after Tom. Finally, Tom was in school and the dog wasn't there.

Many weeks later Tom could not find his coin. Tom looked for it at school of home and in his schoolbag, but the coin wasn't there. One day the dog was again on the street. Tom was afraid because he had lost the coin. He ran into the and said to the shopkeeper: "I lost the coin and I am afraid of dogs again!" The shopkeeper said: "You have to find the coin, otherwise you are forever afraid of dogs!"

After a few days he found it again, on the floor. He was so happy that he screamed, "My dear coin I found you!" On the next school day Connor brought his coin. Suddenly he had twenty one friends out of twenty eight children. Connor was even the most popular child out of the whole school. After two months Connor had to move to Serbia, so Connor was very sad, and all of his classmates were sad as well. Well Connor got to have a pet tiger so Connor was kind of happy. The tiger's name was Teddy.

Connor loved Teddy, a lot, he always played games with Teddy. One day Connor noticed that the dog on his coin was gone! Connor thought that was a wrong coin but it wasn't, it still was the same old coin that he used to love. Connor thought: "I'm still going to take care of my coin, even if it isn't my coin. Teddy started growling so Connor dropped his coin and ran to Teddy. Wait a minute that isn't Teddy it's a bear!"

Ms Connor tried to chase the bear away and real Teddy went in to Connor's bedroom and found the coin. Connor finally managed to chase the bear away so he went into his room and saw his beloved Teddy getting sucked up into the coin. Connor never forgot that day. After his sad adventure Connor became a boring shop assistant. But one day a boy called Max came along and Connor gave Max the coin.

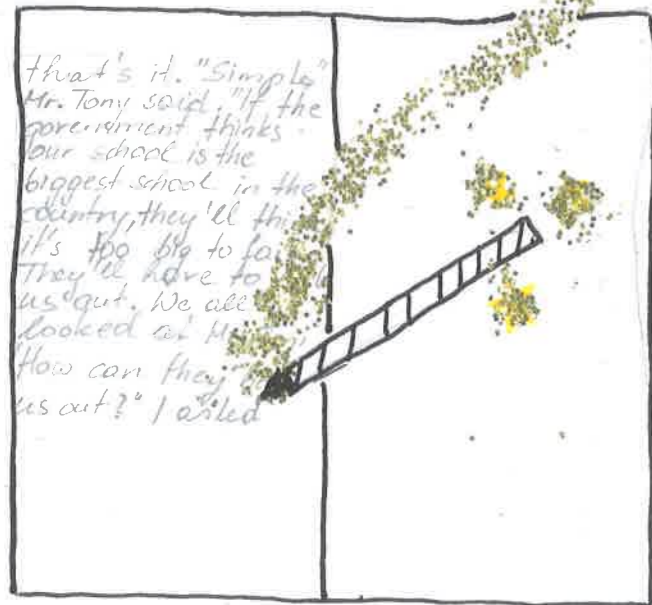

Maxy and Connor had a little boy called Connor. One day the little boy found a coin, it was a very old coin. Connor was very happy because he thought it was lucky. On Connor's sixth birthday he couldn't find it any more. Connor looked everywhere but he didn't find it any more. Connor was very sad but he didn't let his sadness show up on his face. Connor had his first day of school and he hoped that he would find some friends. All the children found friends except for Connor. Connor thought: "If my coin was still here I would have friends for sure!"

By Alisk Maria Schreiner

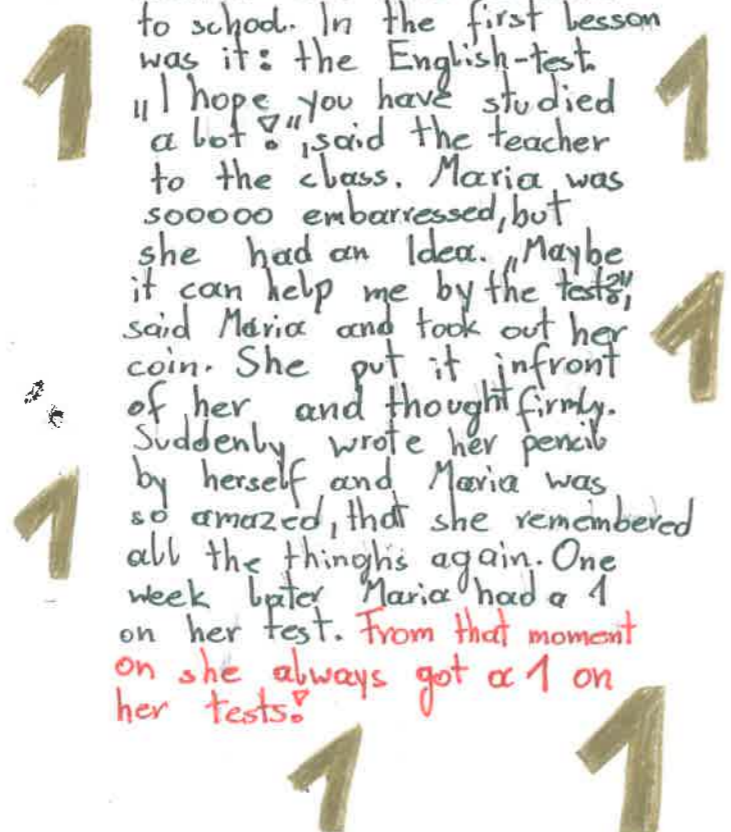

OPEN

After basketball training Maria came home and went to bed.

On the next day she woke up and had forgotten all the things she had studied for the English-test. Then it was time to went to school. In the first lesson was it: the English-test. "I hope you have studied a lot!" said the teacher to the class. Maria was soooooo embarrassed, but she had an idea. "Maybe it can help me by the tests," said Maria and took out her coin. She put it in front of her and thought firmly. Suddenly wrote her pencil by herself and Maria was so amazed, that she remembered all the things again. One week later Maria had a 1 on her test. From that moment on she always got a 1 on her tests!

The magic coin

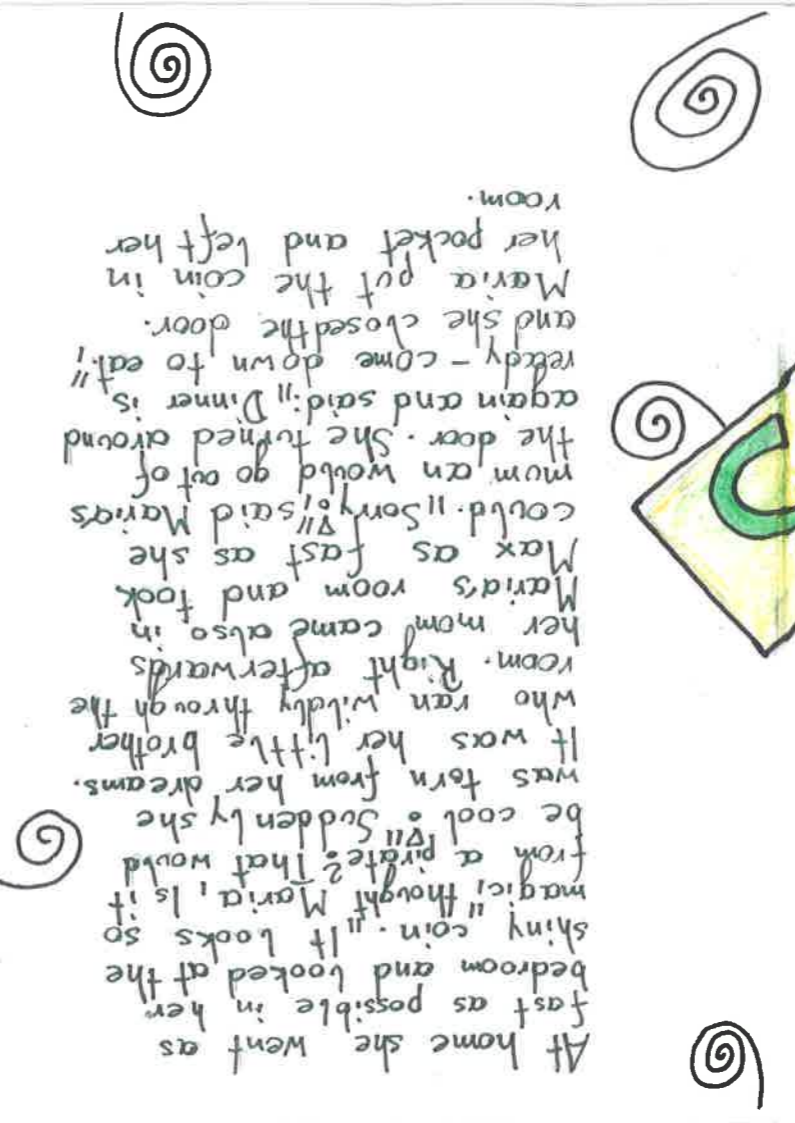

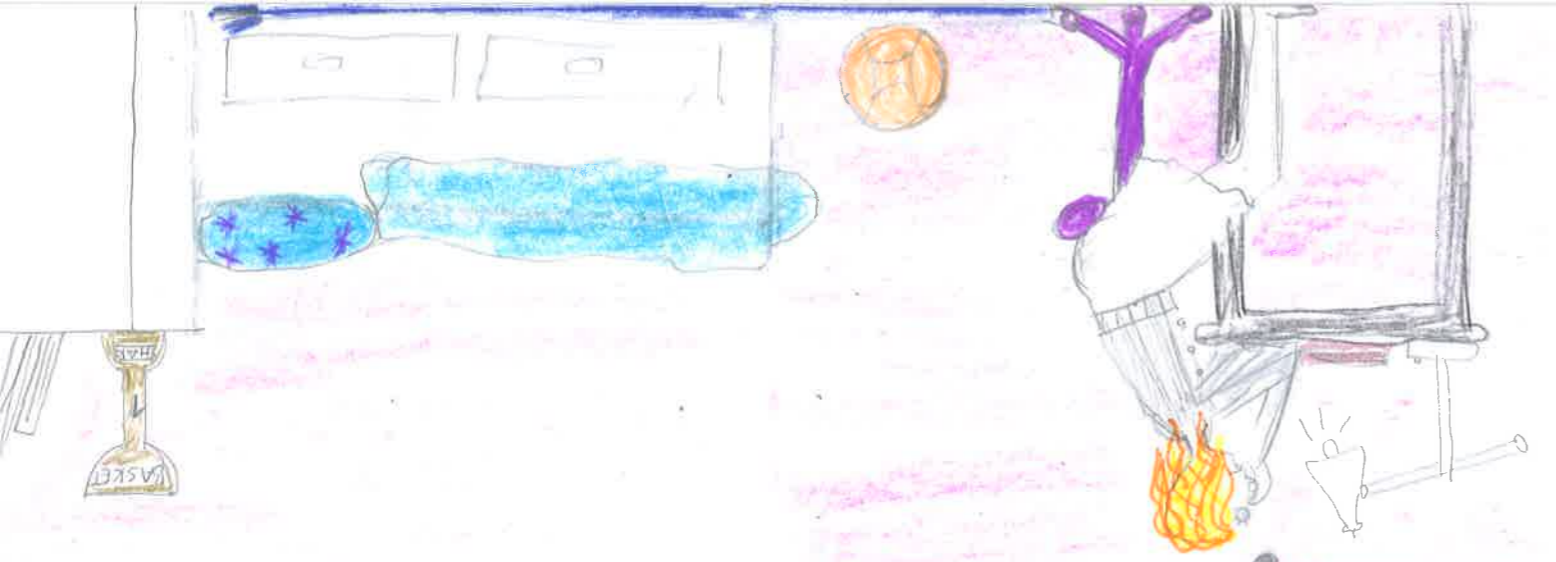

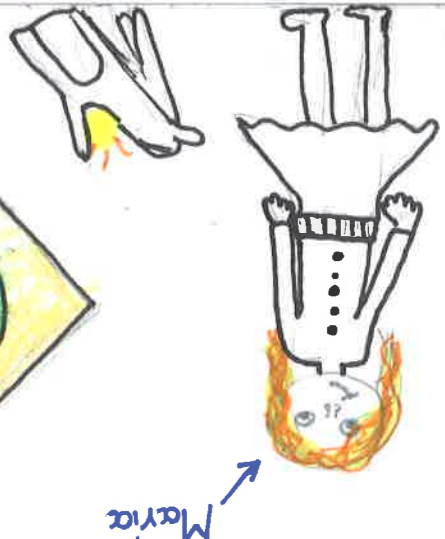

By Valeria

Twenty minutes later Maria came again in her room and had to study for her English-test, because she had it on the next day. She did not study a lot because Maria had basketball training.

At home she went as fast as possible in her bedroom and looked at the shiny coin. "It looks so magical" thought Maria, "Is it from a pirate? That would be cool." Suddenly she was torn from her dreams. It was her little brother who ran wildly through the room. Right afterwards her mom came also in Maria's room and took Max as fast as she could. "Sorry," said Maria's mum, "an would go out of the door. She turned around again and said: "Dinner is ready - come down to eat!" and she closed the door. Maria put the coin in her pocket and left her room.

One day there was a girl called Maria. Maria was ten years old and lived in Graz in a flat with her parents and her little brother called Max. Maria went to the school GIBS and one day she found a little can on the floor. The coin was shining and it looked like a smiley. She put it in her schoolbag and went home.

It was Jack, a homeless person and a good friend of Max. "What's wrong?" asked Jack Max. Max answered: "I'm so afraid of the dark." Then Jack said: "I have something for you, look!"

He took a coin from his pocket and put it into Max's hand. "Hold and rub this coin, and nothing will happen to you," said Jack. "Thank you so much, you are a lifesaver!" said Max and walked on.

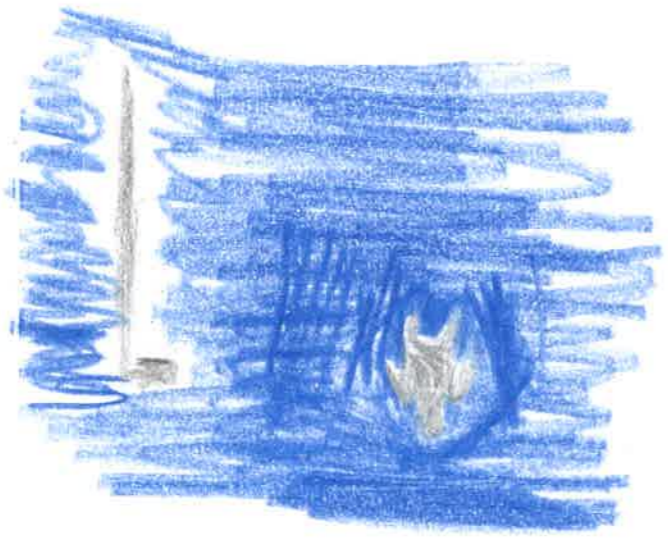

"Good bye!" Jack said to Max. "Good bye!" answered. From this moment on, Max was not afraid of the dark anymore.

The good friend's coin

a story by Julien Kenier

"Oh my!" This is my end, the thought with tears in the eyes. The dark person jumped on. Only five more meters. Then Max recognized the person.

Max was extremely afraid. What if there is a gangster who cut a cable and wants to steal my things? "he thought. He began person jumping to him. he cry. Then he saw a dark person jumping to him.

He had to go one kilometer to his home in the dark but at least the street lights gave him emergency safety. He had already walked hundreds of meters, but then with a loud "zip", the lights turned off.

Max is nine years old and is very afraid of the dark. He always has to go home after basketball training. This always happens at night. One day, Max wanted to go home and took his basketball bag and started to walk home.

Who was the old man?

Tom ask a shop assistant, but he said that no old man, worked here. Then Tom was confused and went out of the shop. He thought: "Who was the old man?"

The old coin

On the next day, Tom went to the little shop again. Because he would like to know, the story of the old coin. But the old man was not there today!

address of the old man?!" he said to him self and went to this address.

"Maybe this is the address!"
 Was he a robber and stole the old coin?
 He was so confused, that he went home.
 On the next day Tom looked at the old coin again and saw a little address!

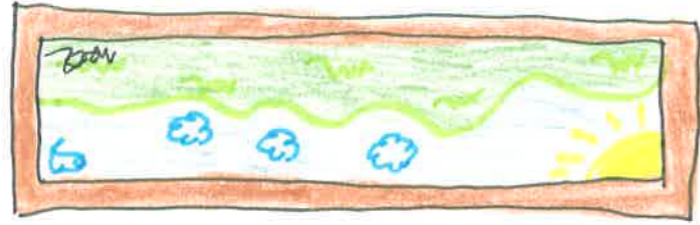

... that was the letter of the old man.
 Tom did what the old man had said to him and went home.

But Tom carried the coin in his pocket every day.

THE END!

In the middle of the room stood, a big red sofa, in the corner stood a thin, beautiful painted rug, on the wall hung a 20 minutes later he stood in front of a big old house. The door was open and he went inside. When he came in, he stood in the big living room.

The old coin is not magic. It will give you courage. I hope it helps you Tom. Go home to your family and forget me.

The old man

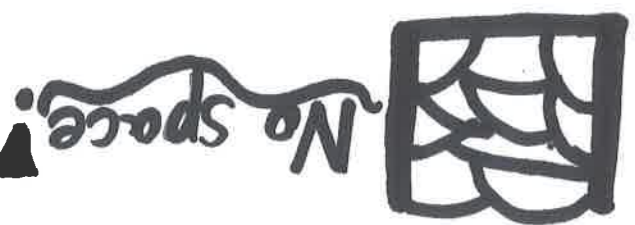

picture and on the floor, there was a red, white and foreign carpet. Then he saw stairs and went to the next floor. There was a bedroom and on the bed lay the old man.  beside him was a paper note.

Hello Tom,

I knew that you would come back. You certainly want to know, what is special about the coin. Maybe I can't say that to you, because I am a very old man, but now you can read the answer.

Tom told Marco that the coin from a magical strong effect. Tom was very happy to get the magic coin back. Tom went to his neighbor Tom and take credit from them.

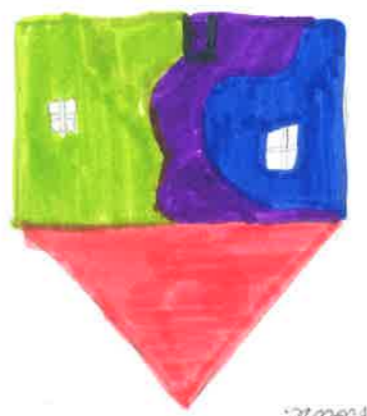

So he looked for some people who were afraid of them. He rose no more courage and then he gave to tell his mother Mr. had very if there are many of them they

Every day he looked for his very small coin. One day he looked at the coin but there was not only one coin there were many of them. Marco only worked one coin in his safe.

Two days later a small boy named Marco found the very old coin in front of his house. The boy put the coin into his safe next to the pool.

Suddenly he was afraid of the dog. He ran as fast as he could to his dog house. His room was on the second floor of the dog house.

One day Tom went home from school. He and the brown dog were very good friends. Tom picked up a wooden stick from the ground and threw it in the garden. The brown dog followed the stick funny and gave it to Tom. When he worked to pick the stick up again the old coin fell out of his pocket into the garden.

The magic coin

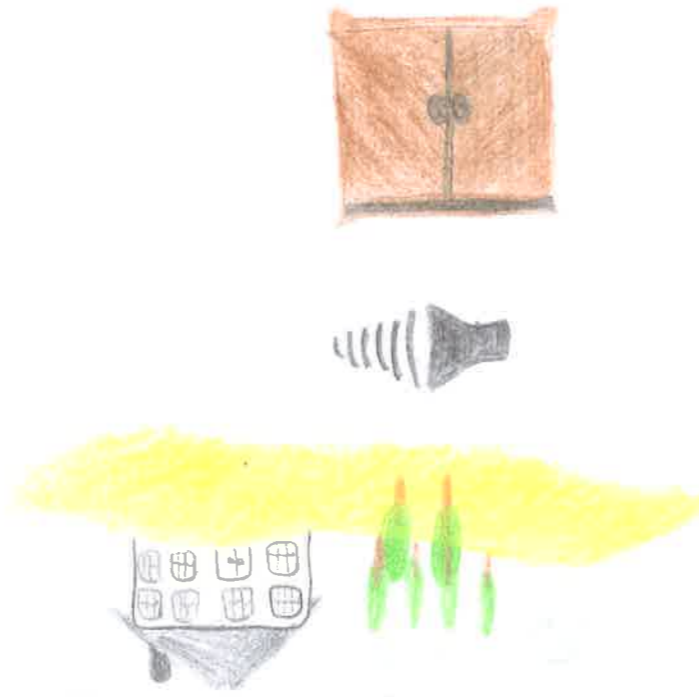

$$4 \cdot 24 = 96$$

Tom asked Marco to get the coins back. Marco gave him all the coins and whined him a good amount.

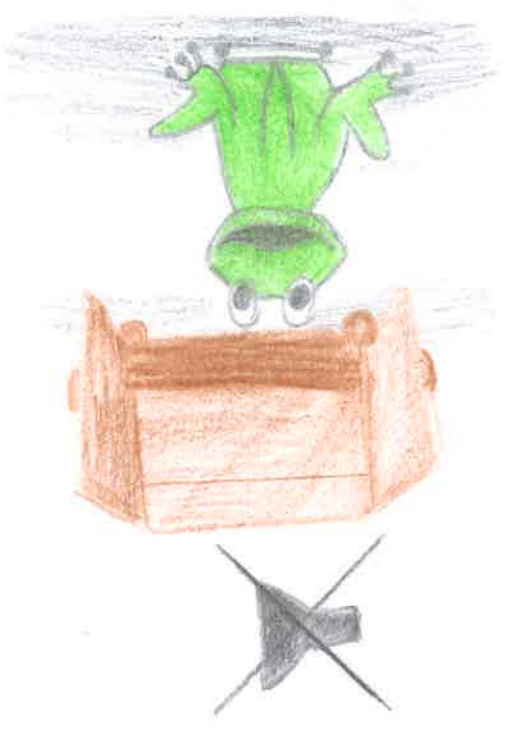

END!

One day Mr. M., a man about thirty years, went with his boat on a small island. On the island there was a big villa. The villa was very old. Mr. M. went into the old house. He was very afraid when he walked into the old house. Suddenly there was a very scary sound. He ran behind an old wardrobe made of brown wood, but this wardrobe wasn't normal.

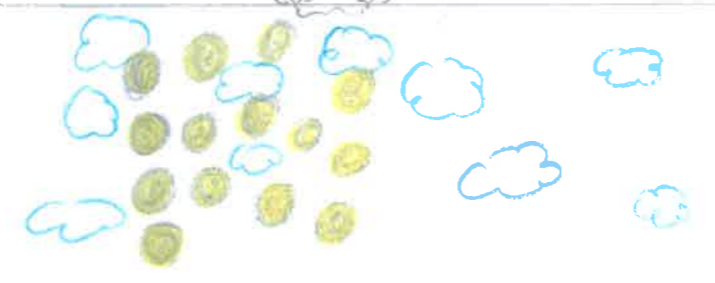

Mr. M. didn't hear the sound any more. He went to the front of the old wardrobe and got a coin. He said, "What is this?" He sat on the ground. The frog jumped on Mr. M.'s shoulder. He said, "Possibly a gift!" He said, "They frog spit out a coin. The coin was silver and very, very old." Thank you! Mr. M. said.

He walked outside and went with his boat back to England. He had a shop and a coin, not a normal coin but a magic coin! Whenever a human had the coin in his hand it rained and the raindrops were money. That's why Mr. M. could open his shop! He was happy to give the coin to other people for example to Tom.

Mr. M. magic coin!

The Magic Coin

It all started about a million years ago in the USA, there was a man who made a coin with his own hands. But before he went somewhere, he put a magic spell on it. The spell had a power that noone could take the coin out of shop that is in the city for more than 30 seconds. On one side of the coin it said: "One million dollars". On the other side there and said they will buy the coin no matter what. As the man got old he gave the shop to his son "Bill". Bill took the shop and he also passed it on to his son as he got old. That kept going on until now. The Shopkeeper that takes care of the shop now, gave the magic coin to Tom. But that only worked for 30 seconds. Then the Shopkeeper cleaned the coin and put it on its place. And still bandits come in the shop and try to steal the coin. But the magic coin always stays a its place. And that spell will stay with the coin forever.

SPELL

was a cat family. As soon as he was in his shop, he got the coin out of his right frontpocket. Then the spell knew that it would have to keep the coin in the shop. The coin got very famous in short time and so did the shop. After many of years bandits started coming in the shop and searched for the magic coin. They found it and took it carefully out of the shop. They ran away happily, but after 30 seconds the coin was back in the shop. Some people even came

