... they said BOOH!

But, I think that was not such a good idea to say BOOH! Because the old women passed out! Oh no

Winnie and Zilly were very shocked.

But then the old woman ^{stood} stand up and laughed and laughed because the old women wanted to scare them. And then Winnie, Zilly and Wilbur also laughed.

Winnie's House

The Bedroom

Winnie loves to sleep and wake up in her bed. Wilbur sleeps at the foot of her bed.

Her bed is very big and cosy and she often sleeps until noon.

Next to the bed there is a door out to a big balcony.

Winnie

Dear Diary!

Today was the strangest day I've ever had as a witch. You won't believe what happened in the morning. I woke up. But not in my bed! I woke up in my bookshelf! But that's not the strangest thing. When I looked at the books and then on the ground, I saw that I was smaller than Wilbur!

The first reaction of Wilbur was that he laughed and laughed.

He was rolling on the floor like a ball.

But I was angry.

So I jumped out of the book shelf and went and got a bottle of cold water. Then I poured it out on Wilbur.

Wilbur stopped laughing immediately.

He made a face like he had eaten fifteen spiders in one minute.

Winnie's latest adventure BOOH!

Today is Halloween and I go as a spider. My friend Zilly goes as a vampire and Wilbur goes as a ghost. In the evening we dressed up.

(That was easy because they only had to put a spell on them and they turn into a spider or a vampire or a ghost.)

They went away from Winnie's house when it was dark night. The first stop was at Winnie's neighbor Mrs. Mary. She wasn't scared because Winnie's Halloween always was jinxed. But when it was about 12 pm Winnie, Zilly and Wilbur arrived at a strange house. They rang the bell and a old woman locked out of the door and then...

's Diary

At noon I and Wilbur were really hungry and wanted to cook some lunch. But in this moment I thought that I was so small? But I tried every magic spell that exists for this problem. So Wilbur had to do the lunch because he was bigger than me. The lunch was horrible. Wilbur is the worst cook of the world I think!
But I had to eat it because I was so hungry!

In the evening I couldn't stand it any longer. But what should I do?
So I was tired and I fell asleep at the kitchen table. And in the morning I woke up in my normal size in my bed and guess that, that all was a dream.

Magic Letters

Dear Zilly,

Yesterday I was with Wilbur in the garden and he couldn't go down of a tree. So I had to wizard him down. But in this moment he fall down on me and my magic wand was broken.

And now I have a problem because my bathroom window is broken and I can't wizard it into the old size.

So I have a question: can you borrow me your magic wand? I hope you can!
